

History Book Postponed

To let you all know the AKKAOA Then and Now History Book has been put on hold/postponed for the time being. We are just in the middle of too many other projects at this moment to give this project the attention it deserves.

We will be working on something on a smaller scale for the Reunion Picnic and the 20th AKKAOA Anniversary celebration in July. We are discussing having a handout history quiz. Give a prize to the one with the most correct answers... something along those lines... just kicking that one around right now.

We would still love any information/photos you might like to submit for consideration for the History Book. At this time we do not have an projected time frame for this project to be finished and made available, but looks like it will be well down the road. We will let you know, as soon as we know, when there is a projected date of publication.

Stay tuned and thanks much!
